Here, at last, is the 1953 edition of the Spindle, a treasure chest of souvenirs. An enormous amount of effort has been put into its completion.

It had its beginning in September, when the members of the senior class elected representatives to be members of the Spindle Staff. Since then the Staff, the members of the Newswriting class, the Personnel Staff, and most of all the faculty advisor, Miss Ryan, have worked to compile the information now awaiting you.

The Spindle is made completely for you. So read on and enjoy it.

Class Ode 1953

We stand upon the shore of life
Uncertain of the way
Our ship must weather storm and strife
Before the break of day.
O help us, through the coming gale
Though fierce that it may be
And from above, send down Thy love
The truth that we may see.

O guide us through the fog and rain
Through which we all must pass,
And Strength, O Lord, give to the weak
Who stand before the mast.
The sea is rough, the waves are high
The shore is far away.
O grant us light, throughout the night
That we may see the day.

Words by—Mary Priscilla Hoar

RAYMOND A. SULLIVAN—Headmaster

There is an old proverb, "The more change, the more of the same thing," which applies especially to the rapid movement of our years in civilization. Here in Lowell we are aware that from the spindles in the mills are flowing fibers of new materials, orlon, nylon, and acetate. All over the world in other fields people realize that from the stockpiles of uranium are issuing explosives of violent power. In one case the product is still cloth; in the order, the product is destruction. Pupils in their years with us will, we hope, despite the impact of all the new inventions, retain the old respect for elevated ideals, and lofty thoughts; and seek desirable opportunities and high goals for their future activities.

Stamp Club

First Row: George Sarris, Mr. Almanzor Dupuis, Gerard Savard, Vincent St. Hilaire. Rear: Charles Karpowicz, Richard Smith, Fred Turcotte, Peter G. Riggs and Jolin Zyrebnak.

In order to enable the students of the school to meet together and enjoy the exchanging and collection of stamps, the Stamp Club is organized at the beginning of the term.

Under the direct supervision of Mr. Alamanzor L. Dupuis, this club has been in existence for over ten years. Pupils whose interest is on collecting foreign and domestic stamps join this club each year.

The Lunchroom Staff

Members of the lunchroom staff are appointed by Mr. Leary, faculty supervisor for the lunchroom. Their work keeps them busy throughout the four recesses.

Floor Masters' Secretaries

Front: Elizabeth Durant, Pauline Cook, Rose Fournier, Helen Gekas, Rita Sunderland, Esther Dumas, Theresa Furey, Phyllis Kedy, Renee Ryan; Middle: Jeanine Clermont, Joan Higgins, Margaret Golden, Doris St. Armand, Shirley Gauthier, Eleanor Gallagher, Mildred Beauchesne, Elaine Debekis, Ruth Lenardson, Janet Laverty. Rear: Carol Kosik, Eleanor Rocha, Mary DePaulis, Joanne O'Heir, Mary Dorsey, Edith Papadopoulous, Norma Lawrence, Pauline Kaczynski, Marjorie Blaha.

Preparing themselves for future careers in business are the capable senior girls who work in the Floormasters' offices during their spare hours.

The girls are chosen at the end of their junior year and are assigned to those tasks for which they are specially trained.

A faculty advisor chooses the girls from a large field of applicants.

Room 100

Clockwise: Dorothy Murphy, Lillian Pearsall, Annette Desrosier, Rita Pearsall.

Surely this group needs little introduction, almost everyone knows the wonderful work Mr. Harris and his staff do in Room 100. Some of their duties are to sell tickets for school functions, distribute locker keys, and keep track of lost and found articles.

Les Pompons Rouges

Front: Theresa Polak, David Glazier, Vivian Tremblay, Alden Gifford, Marion Reilly, Frances Delaney. Middle: Patricia Kelly, Andree Foisy, Mary Jo Killoy, Sultana Poulios Janice Hartwell, Irene Mavrogianis. Rear: Paul Tremblay, Howard Gardner, Robert Morse, William McNamara, Christine Chicklis and Barbara Schwartz.

Les Pompons Rouges, which was just organized in the fall of 1951, has become one of the most popular clubs in the school. Students who are interested in French are eligible to join. The club supervisor is Miss Hildegarde St. Onge.

The president of the club is Vivian Tremblay; Vice President, Alden Giffored; Treasurer, Marion Reilly; Secretary, David Glazier; Assistant Secretary, Teresa Polak; Assistant Treasurer, Frances Delaney; Publicity Chairman, Howard Gardner; Program Chairman, Paul Tremblay; Membership Chairman, William McNamara; Insignia Chairmen, Irene Mavrogianis and Sultana Poulios.

Speakers' Bureau

Front: Nancy Coates, Marilyn Korobkin, Sandra Derby, Irene Mavrogianis, Faith Layson. Middle: Mary Jo Killoy, Peter Chadwick, Edward Thomas, Jacqueline Cohen, Anne Shugrue, Janice Hartwell. Rear: Judith Sheridan, Alice Murray, Ernie Caldiera, Howard Gardner, Barbara Smith and Faith Garrow.

The Speaker's Bureau, directed by Miss Casey, does a great service to this community. The main function of this organization is to support the Lowell Tuberculosis Council in urging the people to take chest x-rays and buy Christmas seals.

Not to be outdone by the groups in previous years, this year's group has done admirably. Besides speaking to outstanding organizations such as the Middlesex Women's Club, they have appeared on "The Lowell High School Journal of the Air." Their appearance on this radio program has enabled the people of Lowell to understand the needs of the local T. B. organizations better and to cooperate with them to secure the funds needed to wipe out this disease.

Freshman Officers

Sophomore Officers

John Sullivan, President; Shirley Francoeur, Secretary; Joan Rynne, First Vice President; Judy McCaffrey, Second Vice President; Maureen O'Malley, Treasurer.

Junior Officers

Marksmen's Club

On Thursday evenings from 7:00 till 9:00 over fifty Senior girls get a chance to let loose at the Lowell Marksman Club.

Although not everyone hits the bulls eye, many come pretty near it with scores as high as 45-50 being the highest!

While waiting for an alley in which to shoot, there are always plenty of cokes and gab to go around.

When the evening is over, Mr. Charles Dougherty, the instructor, adds up the scores and enters them into the scorebook as competitive records.

Front: Mary Dorsey, Marion Reilly, Shirley Legrow, Gloria Veiga. Rear: Vivian Tremblay, Ruth Kanter, Miriam Casey, Joanne Gale, Carol Matley, and Carol Richard.

National Honor Society

Front: Irene Mavrogianis, Betty Jane Taft, Priscilla Hoar, Kenneth Tarbell, Vivian Tremblay, Frances Delaney, Diana Karvelas, Jacqueline Stepanian. Middle: Alvina Mroz, Allison Drake, Margaret Kerkian, Shirley Murphy, Janet Gibson, Andree Foisy, Sultana Poulious, Frances Mullen, Stella Stamas. Rear: Despena Eliopoulos, May Stephens, Barbara Schwartz, Robert Sutherland, Frank Gouveia, Robert Reno, Patricia Moran and Adele Kaplan.

The National Honor Society, under the direction of Mr. Charles Foley, and with the original sponsorship of Miss Helen Choate, has been in existence for the past twenty-six years.

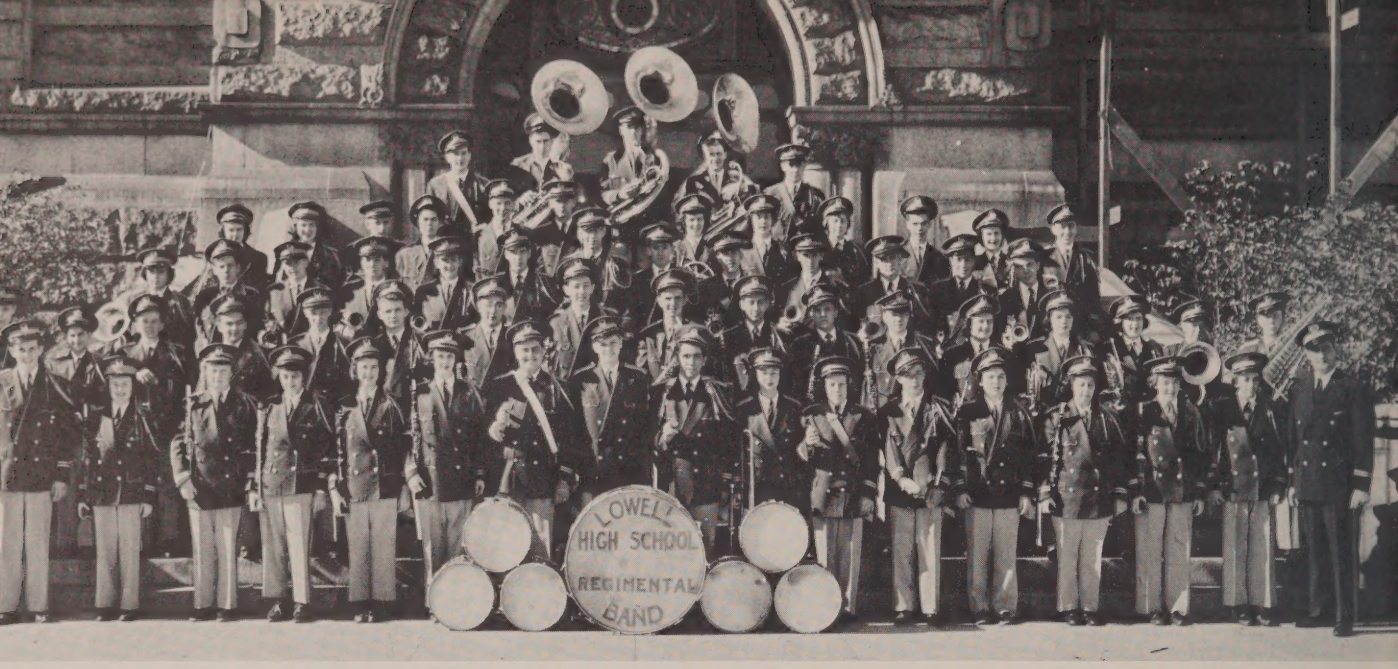
Being chosen as a member of this Society is considered a great achievement by the students.

The four main principles of the National Honor Society are character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

The Flaming Torch, which is the symbol of the purpose and high ideals, is the emblem of the Society.

Juniors with a grade of 90% within the highest 5% of the Junior class, and Seniors with a grade of 85% within the highest 15% of the Senior class are eligible for membership with the approval of the faculty.

Elected as President this year was Kenneth Tarbell. The other officers are Vivian Tremblay, Vice-President; Frances Delaney, Secretary; Priscilla Hoar, Treasurer.



L.H.S. Band

The Band

. . . . ."There's Something About a Home Town Band"

This year, as in previous years, Mr. Notini has proudly led his band through a successful season.

At assemblies, various civic affairs and its annual concert, the band has brought extreme pleasure to all listening. Oh! And, of course, we musn't forget the football games! For what would we have done without the bright and colorful, red and grey uniforms of the rhythm makers cheering us on to victory!

At the end of the year the members get together for a real down-to-earth shindig at one of the many amusement parks near Lowell.

We, in the Senior Class would like to say "hats-off" to Mr. Notini for a wonderful, wonderful year.

WILLIAM J. NOTINI

At Rehearsals

Home Room Representatives

Front: M. Priscilla Hoar, Richard Barnes, Ann Apostolakes, Effie Bikos, Cynthia McGuire, Janet Veiga. Middle: Janice Cobleigh, Charlotte Harrington, Barbara Lafferty, Eleanor McFarlan, Joan Tripple, Helen Trainor. Rear: Margaret Kerkian, Norma Lawrence, Robert MacGinness, Eugene McMahon, Joan Gilmore and Barbara Reilly.

Much of the success of the Senior Social and Senior Prom is due to the unyielding efforts of the homeroom representatives, who virtually forced the dues from the pockets of grumbling seniors. The representatives, elected by classmates earlier in the year, also handled most of the ticket selling for school functions throughout the school year.

Head Cheerleader Helene McCaughy, Marie Simmarelis, Pauline Ferran, Annette Rodman, Cynthia Delmore, Jo-Ann Seery, Joan McDermott.

One of the most popular groups at Lowell High are the Cheerleaders who cheer our football team on to victory every season. The girls dressed in their white sweaters with an L on them, and red pleated skirts, make a striking picture from the stands. The cheerleaders are under the capable direction of Miss Lawler. Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior girls are eligible for tryouts, which are conducted by means of elimination. They are judged on their posture, voice, motions, and ability.

Cadet Officers

Led by Captain James F. Murray, the Cadet Officers of the Lowell High School Regiment form one of the outstanding groups in the school's activities. Officers are selected, by oral and written examination, from those able juniors who are best qualified to perform required duties. By means of eliminating drills, they gain their ratings and ranks. The officers conduct company drills in the annex, preside at civic inaugurals, and lead the regiment on Field Day and Memorial Day.

The Ball, which took place in April, is the social event of the year.

Girl Officers

This year, as always, the members of the Girl Officers Regiment have been examples of fine training.

For over fifty years, Junior girls have approached "tryouts" with heads and hearts held high. Seventy-two girls are selected to lead the entire body of female underclassmen, by three out-of-town judges. They are marked on posture, marching, dance, clubs, and mass drill.

The Halloween Dance at the Vesper Country Club, and the Annual Girl Officers' Ball in January, were characteristic spectacles of breathtaking beauty.

The girls also served as ushers at many benefits, and local affairs. They aided the T. B. drive, Heart Fund, Jimmy Fund, and the Red Cross Blood Program.

The Girl Officers will always be outstanding, in their uniforms of blue and gold, with their flashing swords, and pointed toes. To Miss Bawita Lawler, faculty advisor, the Girl Officers offer a humble vote of thanks for all her time, patience, and heart-felt understanding.

Front: Beverly Ann Bettencourt, Sandra Derby, Geraldine O'Malley, Frances Delaney, Annette Rodman, Anne Apostolakos, Helene McCaughey. Second Row: Judith Sheridan, Rosemary Rynne, Norma Lawrence, Mary LeCam, Patricia Coughlin, Judith Keohane, Mary Ann Devincenzi, Irene Mavrogianis. Third Row: Faith Carrow, Adele Kaplan, Elaine Delehanty, Christine Chicklis, Mary Lou Burns, Carole Kosik, Helen Mary Collins, Joan LeClair. Fourth Row: Joanne Gilmore, Ruth Lenardson, Ann Shugrue, Mary Ann Breen, Mildred Rae Elliott, Priscilla Hoar. Fifth Row: Doris Brunelle, Charlotte Harrington, Alice Bowden, Janice Molloy, Barbara Williamson.

One of Lowell High School's most valuable assets is the track team. Running at top speed, the boys on the team proved themselves worthy opponents for many a challenger. A few of the victories, this year, were secured against Lynn Classical, Lawrence, and Andover. The one defeat came at the hands of Newton. Some of the star runners of the season were John Fawcett, Charlie Miller, Dave Stecchi, John Douglas and Dick Hackett.

Record Poll

This year all the students voted for their ten most popular songs. This poll is a popular feature because each one in the school has a chance to vote.

The group is selected to go into Boston and announce the results of the poll over radio station WHDH. The top five songs are played for the listeners' pleasure, while the other five are listed along with the favorite artists chosen in the poll.

The boys and girls in charge of the voting are chosen by the editor-in-chief of "The Review."

The Selections for the Poll in L.H.S. were

An Act from Hollywood Calling

Special Chorus

The Special Chorus of the Lowell High School may forever be recalled as a fine example of musical culture. Students of upper classes are selected by competition to belong to this exclusive group. The chorus has won many honors, and is always much sought-after to appear at local functions. Elected as officers for this year were: Gloria Anne Veiga, President; Frances S. Delaney, Vice-President; Mary Jo Killoy, Secretary; and Andree M. Foisy, Treasurer.

Outstanding at school assemblies, the members of the Special Chorus, in their maroon robes, are proud to belong to this worthy group.

The Newswriting Class

Front: Joan Stowell, Marilyn Korobkin, Patricia Cullen, Dorothy Wolff, Ann Apostolakes. Rear: Joanne Gale, Ann O'Neil, Anne Shugrue, Mary Jo Killoy, Lillian Hill. Geraldine O'Malley was absent.

The eleven members of this year's Newswriting Class have enjoyed a most eventful year. The mornings were spent gathering news for the weekly radio program on Radio Station WLLH, which was called "The Lowell High School Journal of the Air." The class also wrote for the "Review" and also for the "Spindle." One of the many highlights of the year for members of this class was their Christmas Party, where comical gifts were exchanged. The members are under the capable direction of Miss Anna Ryan, without whose help and advice this work could never have been accomplished. Her patience with us has been astounding.

Radio Announcers

Leaders

Trained by Mr. Wilfrid T. Boulger, the baton twirlers lend glamour to such rugged events as the Lowell football games. The corps, started by Mr. Boulger in the Fall of 1935, is one of the few school organizations in which underclassmen are interested and active. As time went on, the activities expanded to include Field Day and Memorial Day Parades, school shows, and competitions at State Music Festivals.

Every year, in order to encourage his pupils' twirling abilities, Mr. Boulger conducts a championship contest in three classes: Class A for leaders; Class B for future leaders; and the rookie contest for beginners. That the girls really practice for skill and precision in their year-round appearances is proven by the applause shown when the white and gold steps smartly before the eyes of their audiences.

This year the Spanish Club, under the direction and supervision of Miss Mary V. O'Neil, was very active.

The club had many films on Mexico and South America and the members were also entertained by speakers from Textile who spoke on the customs and clothing of Spanish-speaking countries.

The annual dinner of "hot tamales" and other Spanish foods was a happy, well-attended affair.

Retailing Class

Pupils learn the fundamentals of selling, buying, and merchandising. They are given part-time jobs by local stores and obtain experience in this way. They earn while they learn.

The highlight of this year was the trip to Boston. Accompanied by their teacher, Miss Claire Quigley, the students were taken behind the scenes of Filene's Dept. Store, Bonwit Teller Co., and many other leading stores. They inspected the sales production department, the fashion designing and other points of interest. John Bergholm, a member of the class, took colored movies of the trip. The wonderful trip was completed by a delicious luncheon at Howard Johnson's in Medford.

Curtain Going Up

For almost half of a century the annual high school play has been one of the most popular events of the year. Participation in the play is open to students in all classes. The cast and play are chosen by Miss Mary E. Casey, the Dramatics Supervisor.

This year's play "Curtain Going Up", was written by Gregory Johnston. The play was presented March 20, in the Cyrus W. Irish Auditorium.

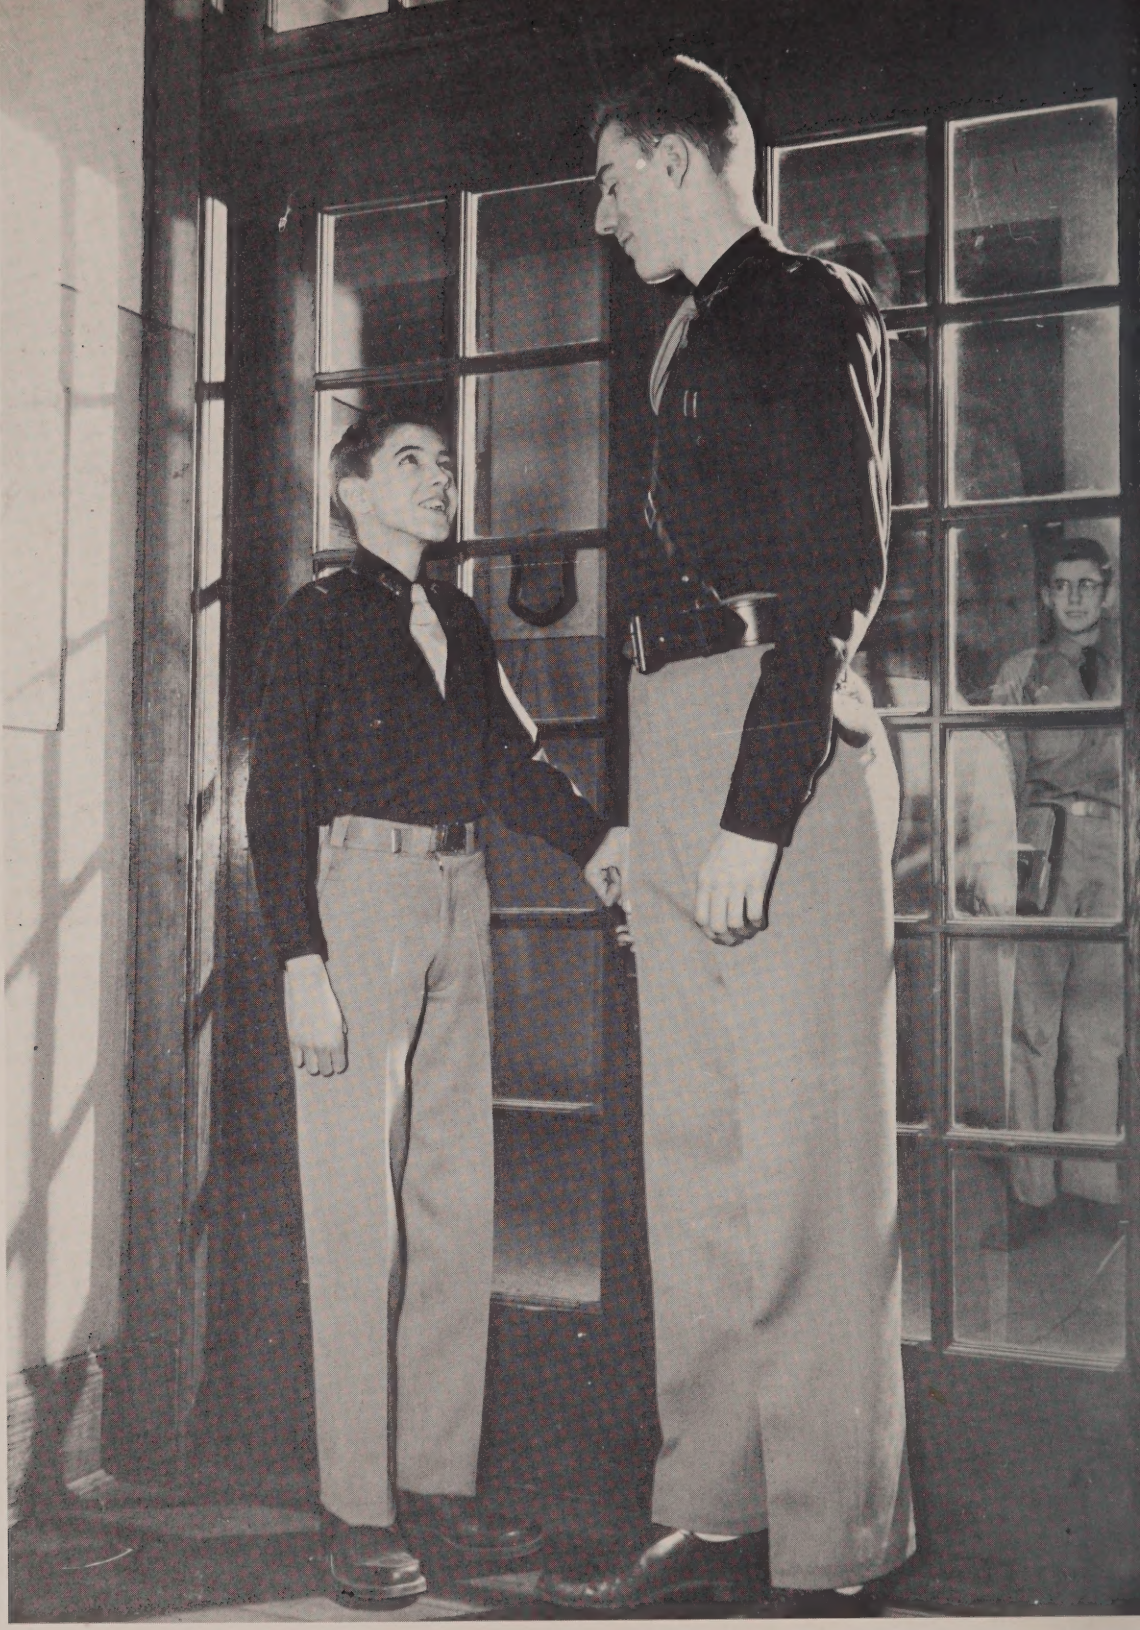
Getting Ready For The Production

Tri-Hi

Front: Irene Mavrogianis, Renee Gerber, Joan Gekas, Janet Gibson, Theresa Polak, Rosalie Mulaniff. Middle: Janice Molloy, Marge Palermo, Joan LeClair, Vera Hecker, Joan Higgins, Alvina Mroz, Marilyn Korobkin. Rear: Mary Ann Breen, Joanne Gale, Dorothy Donahue, Pauline Makariwicz, Lillian Hill, Eleanor Gallagher, and Marilyn Hansen.

As in former years the Tri-Hi, under the direction of Miss Dolores Price, has been buzzing with activity. Not only giving dances, shows and parties, but also working on a different service project each month, the girls have aided such worthy causes as the March of Dimes. To get an idea of what goes on at the weekly meetings of the group, let's look at the March calendar.

5—a fashion show at Lawrence YWCA
11—business meeting
18—splash party at YWCA
21—annual Y-teen Conference in Lawrence
24—the service — project for the month — an Easter party for children at the Ayer Home
27—Hobo Party in YWCA gym
28—Tri-Hi co-sponsors Canteen Record Hop at Kitson Hall



DICK and STRETCH

Review Staff

Letting the world know what's going on at Lowell High School is the job of the "Review" reporters. Featuring scoops on club doings, sports news and social events, the staff leaves no stone uncovered in searching for news. Eagerly awaited each month are "Profiles," which honor six outstanding seniors, and "Anthony's Anecdotes," which are written by the more psychologically-minded staff members. Miss Anna Ryan, faculty advisor, chooses the future reporters at the end of their junior years; selections are based on journalistic ability and English aptitude.

Only GAS DOES SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE

. . . and the more you use the less it costs!

- It's not only good for your health, your comfort and your convenience to use gas . . . It's good for your budget, too . . . Because the more gas you consume, the less you pay per cubic foot.

- It's the old story of volume purchasing that's at work. The more oranges you buy, the less you pay for each orange. The bigger the turkey you buy, the less you pay per pound. Apples by the bushel cost less per apple than apples by the peck . . . And so on.

- Let us prove how little it costs for gas when you use it wisely and widely . . .
